“ I met Curtis on the wisdom app. He quickly became an older brother and someone easy to talk to. He made me laugh more than anyone else. I was grateful for his friendship, with support and unending kindness for my songwriting and live performances: I considered him my good man Friday.

To Ms. Donna and his brothers: i offer my deepest condolences. I understand my experiences were removed from seeing his struggle. I was concerned but from a distance. Please know he was loved by many, and his absence is felt.

Curtis had a heart of gold, he accepted everyone and never judged. He was alarmingly bright and I enjoyed his inability to keep a secret, his complete transparency, and for being unabashedly himself. He was a gentleman and a scholar and one day his spirit will dance at my wedding.

Curtis: I love you brother; you left an indelible impression that will last the rest of my days. You were a great friend and good journey until I see you again.

Sincerely:
