

Georgianne McCue

August 5, 1934 - July 11, 2025

Georgianne R. McCue, 90, formerly of Mount Joy, passed from this earthly life to be with Jesus on Friday, July 11, 2025, at Oak Leaf Manor in Landisville, where she had resided since 2019.

Born and raised in Mount Joy, she was the daughter of George R. and Mary E. Shatto. Georgianne graduated from the former Mount Joy High School in 1952. She went on to marry her high school sweetheart, the late George Walter McCue and remained his faithful cheerleader supporting him during his professional baseball career and life's endeavors as they raised their family in Mount Joy.

Lovingly and forever known as "Nanny," she is survived by two children: Andrea M., married to Bruce Riefenstahl of Mount Joy, and Kristopher G., married to Bonnie Walter McCue of Lancaster. Also surviving are her grandchildren, Justin Hostetter husband of Maria of Mount Joy, J. Brandon Hostetter husband of Amy of Lancaster, Tyler Hostetter of Mount Joy, Clint Buch of Lancaster, and Casey Buch, husband of Katy, of Landisville. There are eight great-grandchildren: Paige, Ella, Nadia, Brayden, Adalyn, Jaxon, Aura, and Cooper.

Georgianne was small in stature but larger than life as her world centered around her faith, family, and friends. Georgianne received an undergraduate degree from Lancaster Bible College and a Master's degree from Millersville University in counseling. She was a 50 year member of St Mark's United Methodist Church in Mount Joy. She used her faith and academic talents to counsel and support others in the community.

“ Georgianne thank you so much being a dear friend of mine. We knew us since summer 1976 , me the young German student and you being the dear friend of Nancy Reymer. Whenever I visited Mt. Joy we saw us and spend a good time together. It was so special when you visited me in Germany in 2004 and of course your trip with Bonnie and the Reymer girls to Paris when I had the chance showing you around.

You will always have a place in my heart. Love, Ulrike Schroen
