“ A vivid memory of mine of Lorraine was when George and I lived in Lewes. Mindy and John brought Lorraine and the girls down for vacation. Mindy decided to take Lorraine and the girls on the Cape May/Lewes Ferry over to the Cape May Zoo. And poor Lorraine - such a trooper. She was sick going over, and sick the whole way back, and never complained. I just thought the world of her. She was old-school - unselfish, wise, & caring - such a strong woman. My heart goes out to the whole family.
