José was a great prayer warrior, and The Holy Bible was his favorite book. He loved to travel. He also enjoyed playing the accordion and singing in quartets and choirs. After his retirement, he especially cherished visits with family and friends whether by phone or at home.

“ Dear Millie, I never knew Jose when he was in his prime of service to our Lord, but I saw his faithful attendance to church even when he was unable to serve in the ways he was used to. I want you to know, from my perspective, Jose never stopped serving the Lord, even unto his last breath. As a believer and faithful servant, Jose's presence beside you, his gentle humble nature, his silence, his smile, the kindness in his eyes whenever I would greet him, and his enduring faith was service to our Lord. He overcame his unbelief years ago by the blood of the Lamb and the word of his testimony. In his old age his testimony of an overcomer was strong as ever! There was just something Holy and Sanctified about Jose's presence! I will miss seeing him in the pew along side you, as I am sure you will too! Millie, your commitment to prayer and your strength taking care of Jose in his last days is a testimony to many!
