“ One of my earliest memories is riding on tobacco wagon while my mom and I think Aunt Helen helped harvest tobacco then the guys hanging tabacco in the raftors. Also, mom walking behind wagon and picking up rocks in the field and throwing on the wagon. I also remember one time Uncle Glenn and Aunt Gerry taking us boating. Don't remember where but it was fun. Rest in peace.

“ I worked with Glenn in the door shop at J.C. Snavelly & Sons. I am sad to hear of his passing. He had a saying that sticks with me today. He would start something and say "And, here we go!".
